This article is part of the systems administration guide. You will require administration access to view the pages mentioned in this article.

The Text Editor uses the spell check function that is built in to the web browser. It has been tested under the latest releases of the following browsers:

- Chrome
- Firefox
- Internet Explorer

Behaviour varies slightly depending on the browser that you use. However in general the following is true:

- Incorrect spellings are generally indicated by a red line underneath the word in question
- Right clicking on the word allows you to:
 - select an alternative spelling of the word
 - add it to your browser's dictionary
 - ask Google for suggestions (Chrome)

For more details on the functionality of each browser's spell check, please consult the browser documentation. Clintel does not support in built spell checking for browsers not listed above.
